

TERMS AND CONDITION

1. Agreement and acknowledgment of ConnServ Terms & Conditions.

Karl Parole and Bryan Cabigting own and administer ConnServ. ConnServ is offered to our users and merchants under the terms of service of the ConnServ Terms and Conditions, as well as any operational regulations or policies that ConnServ may further release or advertise. This ConnServ Terms & Conditions document contains the whole agreement between users and ConnServ. Clicking the "I Agree" button and filling the form registration. You agree to be covered by the ConnServ Terms and Conditions.

2. Description of the website

ConnServ's service aims to boost small and medium-sized businesses. The developers will give complete assistance in establishing their firm and gaining devoted clients. They will also cater to large businesses to assist our users in finding the greatest match for their needs. The website inspired by Connection in Service (ConnServ) will feature a nice user interface with simple navigation for the elderly and non-technical users. Building a customer account necessitates minimal information, but creating a service account necessitates additional information, legal documentation, and a commitment. The locations of the chosen services will be presented. The available services will be classified from beginning and small services to medium services; a guidance for identifying small to medium services will be included in the service account setup process.

3. Modification of the ConnServ Terms & Condition

ConnServ has the authority to amend the terms and conditions of this ConnServ Terms & Conditions at any time. ConnServ will notify the User of any modifications to the terms and conditions by posting the changes on the ConnServ website. After such a modification, a user is deemed to be bound by it until he tells ConnServ that he wishes to stop usage of the Service. Continued use of the Service by the user signifies acceptance of the amended ConnServ Terms & Conditions.

4. Adjustment of the website.

ConnServ maintains the authority to change or stop the Service at any time, with or without prior notification to the user. If ConnServ exercises its right to change or stop the Service, it will not be responsible to the user or any third party.

5. User's responsibilities for their personal account.

When you register for the Service, you will be given a personal account, a username, and a password. You are solely responsible for the security of your password and personal account, as well as any and all activities that occur under your personal account. The user shall promptly alert ConnServ of any unauthorized use of its account or any other security violation that the user becomes aware of.

6. No guarantees are made.

The user clearly acknowledges that usage of the service is entirely at his or her own risk. ConnServ fully excludes any and all warranties, stated or implied. ConnServ offers no guarantee that the service will fulfill the member's expectations, or that it will be continuous, efficient, secure, mistake, or complete for any given purpose. ConnServ also makes no promise on the outcomes that may be gained from using the service, the quality or reliability of any data obtained via the service, or that problems in the service and/or software will be addressed. ConnServ does not filter, review, rectify, or validate any data entered by a member. The user understands and agrees that any information and/or data downloaded or otherwise acquired through the use of the service is done at the member's own discretion and risk, and that the user will be solely liable for any damage to the user's personal computer or loss or damage to data that results from such download. ConnServ provides no warranties about any goods or services sold or obtained via the service, or about any transactions conducted through the service. ConnServ does not suggest or endorse any of the items or services mentioned in the service.

7. Liability restriction.

ConnServ shall not be responsible for any direct, oblique, largely irrelevant, special, or pivotal damages arising from the use or incapability to use the service, or for the cost of procuring replacement products and services, or arising from any purchase of products and services or obtained, messages received, or transactions entered into through the service, or arising from unauthorized access to or alteration of the member's transmissions or data, including but not limited to the member acknowledges and agrees that ConnServ neither endorses the contents of any member's communications nor assumes responsibility for any threatening, libelous, obscene, harassing or offensive material contained therein, any infringement of third-party intellectual property rights arising therefrom or any crime or actionable conduct facilitated thereby. the member may enter into correspondence with or participate in promotions of the advertisers showing their products on the service. any such correspondence or promotions, including the delivery of and the payment for goods and services, and any other terms, conditions, warranties or representations associated with such correspondence or promotions, are solely between the corresponding member and the advertiser. The advertiser assures that it has obtained all relevant government permits for the advertising. ConnServ accepts no duty, obligation, or liability for any aspect of such correspondence or marketing. ConnServ will not be liable for any incidental, consequential, special, severe, or pivotal damages, as well as any loss of profits, income, information, or use of the service by the member. Because certain countries do not provide the limitation or exclusion of responsibility for limitation of liability damages, some of the foregoing limits may not apply to you. The advertising member ensures that it has obtained all required governmental permits for such advertisement. ConnServ accepts no duty, obligation, or responsibility for any aspect of such correspondence or marketing.

8. User behavior

The user is personally accountable for the information of his or her transmissions using the service. The user hereby warrants that its use of the service is in accordance with all relevant native, domestic, and global laws and regulations, and appears to agree, among other things, not to use the service for illegal purposes, not to tamper or disrupt transport processes to the service, and to cooperate with all regulatory requirements, guidelines, and processes of networks that are connected to the service. The user will not use the service for chain emails, spam mail, phishing, flooding the ConnServ system and/or network, or sending distribution lists to anybody who has not provided special consent to be included in such a process. The member undertakes not to transmit any illegal, threatening, libel, abusive, threatening, harmful, vulgar, obscene, or otherwise objectionable content of any type or form through the service. The member also undertakes not to submit any content that encourages action that might lead to a criminal crime, civil liability, or otherwise violate any relevant local, national, or international law or rule. It is forbidden to attempt to obtain unauthorized access to other computer systems. The member must not interfere with another member's or another entity's usage and enjoyment of the service or comparable services. ConnServ may, in its sole discretion, cancel the service immediately if the member's behavior does not adhere to the terms and conditions of the ConnServ Terms & Conditions.

9. Revocation of account.

The user or ConnServ may cancel the service with three (3) days' warning. If the user objects to any of the terms and conditions of the ConnServ Terms & Conditions or any successive alteration hereunder, or if the user is unhappy with the service in any way, the user's only recourse is to immediately discontinue use of the service, revoke its subscription, and inform ConnServ of such revocation. The user's right to use the service immediately expires upon termination of the service, and the user accepts that ConnServ shall have the sole right to keep or delete information in the user's account, page, and/or prevent any subsequent access to this information or the service.

10. Content has exclusive rights.

The user understands that the information, including but not limited to text, software, music, sound, photographs, video, graphics, or other information stored in either partner advertisements or messaging, commercially made information presented to the user by ConnServ or ConnServ's advertisers, is protected by copyrights, trademarks, service marks, patents, or other proprietary rights and laws; as a result, the user is only permitted to use this content. The user is not permitted to duplicate, reproduce, distribute, or make creative works from this content unless specifically allowed by the services or the sponsor.